

Schools Unification Plan Faces Vote May 15

By DON MILLER

Agreement between five north county school districts on a plan of unification seemed as remote as ever this week—except with one new wrinkle added:

Each board through a representative now must vote May 15 with the San Mateo County Committee on School Reorganization on the committee's plan to unify the five districts into an area now covered by the Jefferson High School district. The vote was set at a meeting last week of the committee and the five boards of trustees. The meeting had been called for the committee to consider any alternate plans to one it proposed in January.

The county group at that time placed a 90-day moratorium on its own proposal when it was apparent that the plan did not have the backing of the five boards.

The committee asked the districts to agree on an alternate proposal or if this was impossible, for each to submit a plan that would meet state requirements.

Only two of the five boards submitted last week what the committee considered valid alternate proposals.

Representatives of all five, however, indicated they were opposed to the committee's plan and would vote against it May 15.

2 Proposals

The two alternate proposals were submitted by Thomas Noonan, representing Jefferson Elementary district; and by Allen Rigler, representing Brisbane.

In a lengthy statement, Noonan called for a plan that would establish the Jefferson district alone, or combine it with Brisbane and Bayshore.

He also said the over-all program should provide for a district comprising South San Francisco and Laguna Salada, or parts of Laguna Salada with South San Francisco, Millbrae, and San Bruno Park.

Rigler said his trustees favor a district including Brisbane, Bayshore, and Jefferson Elementary; or Brisbane, Bayshore, and South San Francisco, and San Bruno Park.

William Platt, vice chairman of the county committee, said the committee must determine whether it considers one of these alternate proposals superior to its own plan.

Own Plan

If it reaches this conclusion, he explained, the committee will vote against its own plan May 15, and call for a new series of meetings between the committee and representatives of the areas involved.

Under a state mandate, the committee has until September 15 to present plans of unification to the state board of education.

Platt told board representatives that a measure has passed the state legislature, which would extend this deadline (for due cause) until September 15, 1964.

He added, however, that he felt the unification program should proceed under its present timetable, until the new deadline is approved by Governor Edmund G. Brown.

Presenting his district's alternate plan, Noonan declared:

"It should be clear to you now that your present plan would be a failure at the polls... delaying unification for several years. We feel it would be a step backward, rather than forward, and we intend to cast a 'no' vote."

Noonan said his board believes that South San Francisco should not have been excluded from the committee's considerations.

"We contend that a true north county review would have included South San Francisco, Millbrae, and San Bruno Park."

A resolution by Jefferson High school trustees, opposing fragmentation of the district and calling for maintaining the status quo, was criticized by Platt and Mrs. Helen Kerwin, another member of the committee.

Both asked the Jefferson delegation to explain how "splitting" the district would be a detriment to the over-all educational program.

Criticisms

Mrs. Kerwin went further, and leveled a general criticism at all the boards, for failing to offer "specific" criticisms to the county committee's proposal. She declared:

"I think the onus is on you people to prove to us that our plan is wrong. Your objections must be on a factual basis rather than on vague statements." Assailing those who favor the present school district set-up in the north county, she added:

"I think we would be abdicating our responsibility to the state."

3 Searches Fail to Find Missing Boy

Three separate and intensive searches last week failed to turn up any trace of 13-year-old Wayne Silber of 72 Teresa street, Daly City, missing since February 8.

The dark-haired youth, wearing blue jeans, a navy sweat-shirt over black shirt, white socks and tennis shoes, left his home to play with friends, his mother, Mrs. Ben Silber, told police.

According to investigators, the parents of one of two of the friends have declined to permit police to give the two a lie detector test in connection with the case.

Detective Philip LaBruzzi, handling the investigation, said seven jail trustees, under the supervision of sheriff's deputies, scoured the Crocker Hills last week for a sign of the missing boy.

Then in a driving rain Saturday morning, eight adults and 35 Boy Scouts undertook a thorough search of the same area and the adjacent region. LaBruzzi said the searches covered the west side of the San Bruno mountains and extended (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

Brisbane Is 3rd Largest

Brisbane became the county's third largest municipality last Wednesday when its annexation of bay front land as far north as the San Francisco city limits and as far east into the bay as the Alameda county line became official. Annexation notice was filed with the secretary of state in Sacramento.

After returning from the state capital last week, City Manager Lanier S. Brady Thursday filed the official annexation with the county recorder's office in Redwood City, adding some 13,000 acres to the city's area.

TEACHER SCOLDS BOARD

Contractor Fined $50 Per Day for Jeff Work Delays

Contractor for the new Jefferson High school, James Roberts company, is being charged $50 per day for failure to complete the building by April 8.

Superintendent Edward Morgan told Jefferson Union trustees Monday that according to the terms of the contract damages to the school district are being charged to the contractor from the day the building was supposed to be ready, April 8, until the day it is finally completed and ready for occupancy.

Morgan said the contractor has been informed that the school district also is reserving the right to go back and sue him for other sections of the job not delivered on time. Morgan specifically mentioned the track field, still not useable, and the auto shop, due in December and finished in March.

Michael Orlich, physical education director at Jefferson High said that 2½ years is too long to complete a football field and track and criticized the school trustees for "not cracking the whip" over the contractor's delays.

"You're a terrific board," said Orlich, "but you're too easy. If a teacher muffed a job like that, someone would get on him right away."

Orlich complained that for three seasons Jefferson track athletes have had no track to run on. He said that the track is not useable because of inadequate drainage.

Trustee Lyle Ingersoll said that if the contractor is not diligently pursuing the project to completion the school district should consider moving in, taking over and charging the contractor.

At a special meeting on May 6, Jefferson trustees will take a new, long look at their stand on unification, they decided last night.

Trustees asked Morgan to prepare a summary of the various proposals on unification submitted by the elementary school districts. Trustees wished particularly to study the disadvantages of splintering the present Jefferson Union High school district, the student they already have taken. As a result of their study, Chairman James Cooper said they would either change or reaffirm their position on unification.

Kent Herkenrath, Westmoor High school track coach, arrested last week in Santa Clara on a charge of armed robbery, was suspended by Jefferson trustees.

Early Entries Are Requested For Pageant

Miss Daly City pageant officials today urged prospective contestants to submit their applications early for the annual program.

The pageant will be held June 5 in the South San Francisco Elks building on Hillside boulevard. Contest preliminaries will be held Friday, May 24. Candidates must be from 16 to 25 years old, a resident of Daly City for at least six months, single and never married before.

Applications are available at the chamber's office at 6154 Mission street. Tickets for the pageant are on sale at the office of The Post, 30 Park Plaza drive and at the chamber of commerce.

Appraisal Procedures Are Upheld

The Board of Trustees of the Jefferson Elementary School district Monday night unanimously upheld methods used by its two appraisers as "independent" and "impartial."

At the same time, however, the board directed one of the appraisers to inspect homes he had been unable to gain admittance to.

The inspection should be made, the board ruled, in an effort "to determine whether as a result of such an inspection, his opinion as to the value of the properties should in any way be changed."

The board's ruling came in the aftermath of a review it undertook of appraisal procedures after they had been criticized by a Daly City resident early this month.

Matthew Murray of 138 Vista Grande avenue had charged that his property had been inspected by two persons although only one appraisal was submitted to the board.

School Expansion

The appraisal and others in the area had been made in connection with the acquisition of land for the expansion of Woodrow Wilson school.

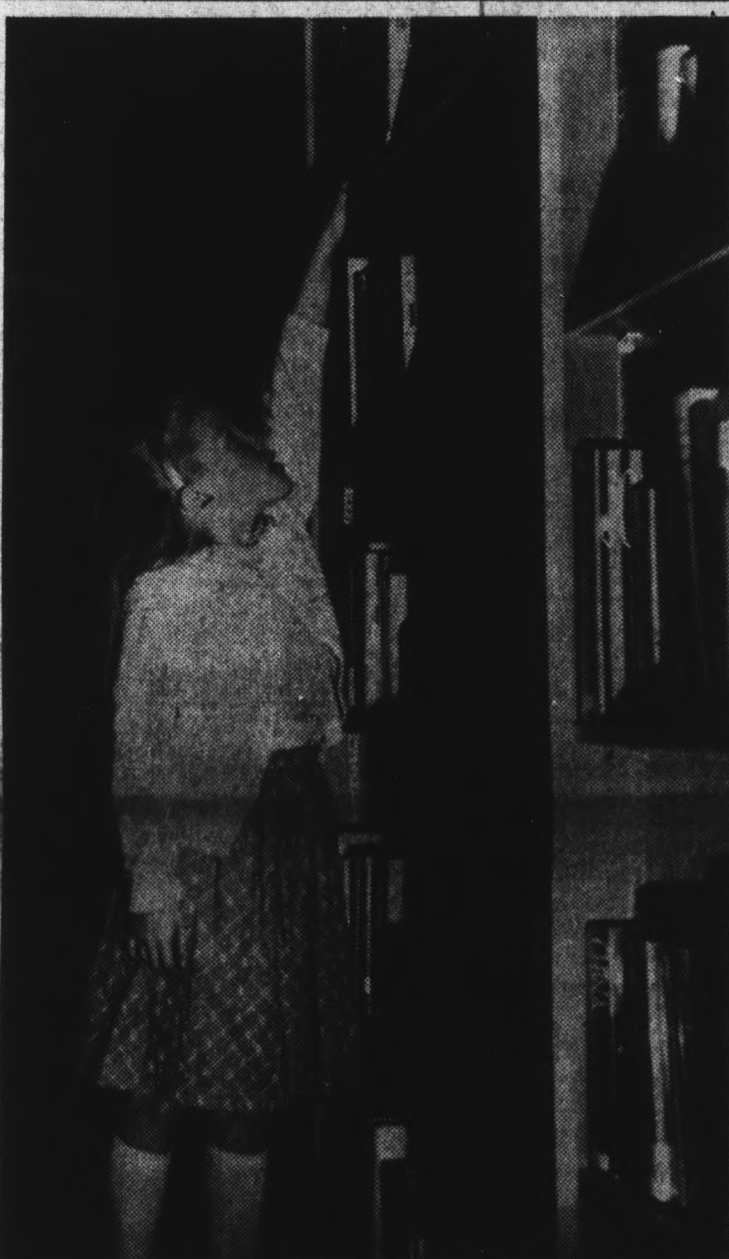

O. Wayne Douglas, board trustee, introduced the motion in support of the appraisers.

He noted that one of them had been unable to gain admittance to some homes and had made an appraisal based on outside inspection, on his notes and information received from other sources.

Murray appeared at Monday night's meeting but did not ask to speak before the board.

Later he indicated he would have something to say at the next meeting of the board after studying the board's action.

When he first levied his charges of poor appraisal methods, the board asked him to sign a statement he made containing the (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 3)

Voters Choose Incumbents in Jeff Districts

In elections that mirrored a county-wide trend, four incumbents were re-elected to the boards of trustees of the Jefferson Elementary and Jefferson High school districts last week.

Countywide, all incumbents except three were returned to office in 29 school districts. Chosen again by residents of the high school districts were Lyle Ingersoll and James Cooper. They were unopposed. Ingersoll polled 3896 votes while Cooper, president of the board, gained 4149.

In the elementary district, incumbents Joseph Lewkowitz and O. Wayne Douglas turned back a third candidate, Mayre A. Albert—making her second run for office.

Douglas led the voting with 2065, Lewkowitz polled 1961 and (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

A TENSE MEETING

Large Firms, Cow Palace Attack Move

Although backed up by a sizeable protest from industry, opponents of Daly City's move to annex the inhabited part of Bayshore City failed to muster enough support Monday night to halt the Daly City action.

In a council meeting attended by one of the largest crowds in recent months, four large companies joined with the Cow Palace's board of directors in formally protesting the annexation.

The cumulative assessed valuation they represented totaled $335,000 or "considerably less" than the $1 per cent needed to defeat the annexation, according to City Attorney Paul Huff.

The hearing was adjourned 10 days, as required by law, to permit opponents to seek support for their position.

The council heard State Deputy Attorney General Clayton P. Roche and Cow Palace director John Brucato assail the annexation on the grounds it was "ill-conceived, hasty, illogical and impractical."

Replies Given

Replies to their protests and the written protests of Crown, Cork and Seal Incorporated, S & W Foods, J & P Enterprises and Schiag Lock company were given by Thomas Bocci, legal representative for the Bayshore Citizens Committee; Berrtram "Bud" Lyett, president of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. Kenneth Pack, a Bayshore citizen, and Herbert Ritzman, chief of the Bayshore Fire District.

Written protests by the Schindler Furniture company and Oren and Mary Marin were withdrawn prior to Monday's meeting.

Roche said large land-owners in the area were not consulted before the annexation move was taken and asked that proceedings be dropped until they could be contacted.

Finance Director Joseph Arch read a paragraph from the California Code, stating that the admission price could not be raised without permission of the governing board.

"We have no right to add an admissions tax," Verducci said to Bocci, "so why are you worried?"

Bocci told the council there had been no organized attempt to halt the annexation until about 10 days ago.

"It strikes me strange that the Attorney General's office should advocate the Cow Palace's position rather than objectively looking at the legal aspects of the annexation," he said.

The objection of the Cow Palace directors "is political in nature," he said.

"When the whims of a few individuals, who do not live in the area are placed over the will of the 4000 people living in Bayshore and the 50,000 in Daly City, then it's time we re-evaluate the duties of the Attorney General's office."

Bocci said "at no time did the Attorney General's office make any attempt to step into another annexation in the area (by Brisbane), to question the legality of it."

Bocci drew thunderous applause from the large audience when he asked the council to think of the (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 1)

Councilman Lashes at Opposition

Daly City Councilman Robert St. Clair sharply criticized S & W Foods Monday for its "methods" in protesting the city's annexation of the inhabited portion of Bayshore City.

St. Clair said the firm sent one of its employees to call on other business in the area "with incomplete and inaccurate information" in an effort to get them to send in written protests.

"I believe this practice to be morally and ethically wrong," he said. "Furthermore, it is a grave injustice to the people living in Bayshore City who are striving to better their community by an act of annexation."

St. Clair said he was aware of the right of an individual property owner to protest any annexation which affects his property. He did not object to this, he said, but to the "methods" used to get other firms to protest.

Organized opposition to the annexation first was reported last Thursday at the Daly City-Colma (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 5)

Coach Linked To 4 Holdups

Kent Herkenrath, 25-year-old WESTMOOR High school track coach, has been accused of four more holdups besides one he was arrested for April 9.

Herkenrath, who described himself as a compulsive gambler who was "only 10 per cent bad," had been arrested for a San Jose hold-up.

San Mateo's Detective Sgt. John Borcherting said Herkenrath has been tentatively identified in connection with a $200 holdup at Macy's in Hillsdale November 11, and an $800 holdup at The Emporium at Hillsdale, February 9.

San Francisco's Lt. Mortimer McInerney said the Westmoor coach had also been tied to the $800 City of Paris robbery at Stonestown October 27, and the $200 robbery at The Emporium in Stonestown January 12.

Mrs. Albert drew 750 votes. The elementary district election drew only 12.6 per cent of the district's qualified voters—the lowest turnout of any elementary district in the county.

In winning, Ingersoll adds another four-year term to service on the high school board that began in 1961. He served as board president from 1963 to 1966 and during the 1960-61 school year.

Life Membership

He holds a life membership from the Jefferson High School P.T.A. He and his wife, Ann, live at 439 Crocker avenue.

Cooper joined the board in 1961 and served as vice president in 1960-61. He has been its president since 1960 and last year was named a director of the San Mateo county School Boards association.

He and his wife, Lydia, are the parents of a daughter, Elizabeth, a freshman at the College of San Mateo and a son, James, a junior at Terra Nova High school.

Service Continued

Lewkowicz' re-election to the elementary board continues service to the district that began in 1953. This will be his fourth term of office.

For the past three years, he also has been the treasurer of Daly City. He and his wife, Sarah, live at 277 San Fernando way, Daly City. They are the parents of seven children.

In winning, Douglas gains his second four-year term to the board. He was first elected in 1959 and served as president in 1961-62.

He and his wife, Nara, are the parents of a son, Stephen, 14, a student at Ben Franklin school. They live at 1147 Southgate avenue in Daly City.

"There's no indication he's dead. There's no indication he's hiding. The only indication we have at this time is that he's not at home," LaBruzzi noted.

He added that police would continue to check out all leads and that the investigation would continue.

Daly City police this week cautioned children against playing in the city's shopping centers.

Detective Phillip LaBruzzi said youngsters playing in these areas, which are heavily traveled by shoppers, are subjected to hazards that would not be present in playgrounds and other authorized play areas.

He added that on several occasions youngsters have been arrested for taking things from center stores that they had no apparent use for and that their parents would have been happy to purchase for them.

Kindergarten Registration Is Scheduled

The Jefferson Elementary School district will enroll children for kindergarten in the 1963-64 school year Monday, May 6.

Children born on or before December 2, 1958, are eligible for enrollment.

Parents must bring birth or baptismal certificates, passports or affidavits at the time of enrollment. Hospital certificates, unless they are from a federal hospital, are not acceptable.

District officials say a continuing requirement for entering school will be verification of polio immunization shots or vaccine. Registration will be held at these schools from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.:

Abraham Lincoln, 1267 Southgate avenue; Christopher Columbus, 60 Christopher court; Colma K-6, Hillside and Market streets; Crocker, 649 Bellevue avenue; Daniel Webster, 425 El Dorado drive; Garden Village, 208 Garden lane, and General Pershing, 631 Hanover street.

When he failed to do so, the board indicated it could not take any action until he did.

A spokesman for the board said Monday night that Murray still had not submitted a signed statement.

After the meeting, Douglas said the board's review of the appraisal methods had been made in consultation with District Attorney Keith M. Sorenson, an aide and the two appraisers.

He said the district attorney was satisfied that the appraisals were independent and impartial and that no collusion was involved.

stand on local educational issues. Cardinal's supporters, who included Mayor Harold Feyge, City Councilman Harland Minshew and Chamber of Commerce manager Basil Gladieux, were accused by other candidates of bringing "politics" into the school board election.

Emory Lebonville, one of Cardinal's active campaign workers, said this week it was nonsense "that a political machine" had been organized to back Cardinal's candidacy.

He said he planned to take sharp issue with the editor of a local weekly who accused Republicans of trying to push Cardinal on the school board—possibly as a warm-up for next year's city council election.

Support

Lebonville said Cardinal's supporters had been organized behind his educational beliefs—not his political affiliation.

Chief opposition to Dr. Clark had centered around the idea that as a professor of education, he could not take a "layman's" approach to school board problems. This was one theory apparently the voters didn't buy—believing instead that Clark's experience and background would be an asset to the board.

While other candidates found faults in the operation of the local schools, ranging from not grouping children according to abilities (Miller) to too much spending (Cardinal) to need for greater communication between the board and public (Emde), Dr. Clark pretty well supported the schools and called only for people to "build soundly on what we have."

Backing of Teachers

It was generally believed that Dr. Clark had the support of the teachers and other school personnel, a sizeable group in Pacifica. Dr. Clark received the endorsement of the local branch of the American Association of University Women, a group which also backed Emde.

Commenting on his election, Dr. Clark said this week that "most of this talk about life adjustment is an emotionally loaded attack on the schools."

Schools Week Is Observed

Public Schools Week is being observed at schools throughout the North County this week. Parent-Teacher groups have planned open house programs and students have constructed special exhibits for display.

Information on the programs and the exhibits may be obtained by calling each school.

Voters Reject Pro-Rafferty School Slate

Five challengers for the County Board of Education who hoped to ride Max Rafferty's coattails into office failed utterly in last week's countywide election.

None of the challengers got closer than 350 votes to his opponent.

County voters also, for the second time in two years, rejected a proposed charter amendment to make the County Superintendent of Schools appointive by the County Board of Education, rather than elective as at present.

The five pro-Rafferty candidates filed for election on the last day before the deadline and waged an energetic campaign. It was the liveliest campaign in the board's history and observers expected that at least some of the possibly one or two of the challengers might have a chance. The incumbents won handily in each case however.

Breakdown

In Trustee Area No. 3 the incumbent, Mrs. Virginia J. King, polled 23,655 votes while her opponent, Walter P. Capoccioli, got only 13,486. The area includes the South San Francisco Unified school district.

In Area No. 4 (San Mateo city), Nora S. Evans, the incumbent, beat her opponent, Mrs. Lois Notaro, by better than a 2-1 margin. The count was 24,465 to 11,717.

Thomas Needham, the board member from Area No. 5 (Burlingame, Hillsborough, Millbrae and San Bruno), received 22,824 votes to 13,908 for David H. Keyton.

In Area No. 6 (Belmont, Redwood City and San Carlos), the incumbent, Mrs. Florence M. Cadigan, outdistanced her opponent, Mrs. Edythe M. Bielenberg by a count of 24,323 to 11,695.

Dr. Frank R. Arnold came the closest of any of the Rafferty slate. He ran in Area No. 7 (Woodside, Las Lomas, Menlo Park, Portola Valley and East Palo Alto) against board member Perry Edward West. West won, 10,108 to 16,603.

Frank Martorana, chairman of the Chamber's industrial development committee, said opponents of the move were contacting property owners.

City Manager Edward Frank supported Martorana's charges and said the opposition had been giving "misinformation" to the property owners in an effort to confuse them into voting "no."

Frank said he and several others have talked to the firms.

"We have been giving them nothing but the truth and facts," Frank said. "The method being used by the opposition is an old political trick. They are trying to confuse the people and thereby build up opposition."

Letters

TO THE EDITOR:

May I express my gratitude to you and Ron Bates for the fine article which appeared on the Daly City Recreation commission.

I sincerely believe that many of the residents of the community are unaware of the decisions and responsibilities which are placed upon the Recreation Commission and other commissions within the scope of our local government. Articles such as this tend to serve a dual purpose:

1. Recognition of the volunteer laymen and the job they are doing.

2. Educating the general public as to the nature and scope of the field in which the commissioners are concerned.

Without the attitude and concern shown in behalf of the citizens of this community by the Park and Recreation commission, recreation in Daly City could not have reached its present status. Again, my thanks for your excellent article.

Charles E. Vincent,
Director of Recreation.

TO THE EDITOR:

The State Board of Education's proposed revision of the state teaching credential code has identified certain subjects and the teachers of these subjects (home economics, business education, industrial arts, etc.), as being second class.

This would be an unhealthy change of direction for our public schools. Second class subject matter taught by second class teachers must be for second class students.

Our schools have a tradition of promoting free and equal opportunity for all students. The state board's proposal is contrary to the best interests of all the people's children.

B. L. Taylor,
240 Buckingham Way,
San Francisco.

TO THE EDITOR:

The Jefferson High school P-TA wants to thank you for the co-operation and help given them this past year. You were very kind to give space in your paper for their publicity articles and pictures.

We hope to keep the same pleasant relationship during this next term. The incoming president for the 1963-64 term is Mrs. Ruth Huelse. Thank you again.

Mrs. Harry Ojakian,
Corresponding Secretary,
Jefferson High P-TA.

TO THE EDITOR:

All too frequently we criticize in a state of belligerent ignorance the various offices and departments of our city government. On behalf of the Fernando Rivera P-TA we would like to reverse the usual procedure and publicly thank those involved and tell everyone about the superb co-operation we received while trying to solve our traffic problems on Lake Merced boulevard.

Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy deserves a special thank you for his prompt and most courteous action when he was informed that the hedge in front of the main station and the fire equipment being parked in the driveway were obstructing our view of oncoming traffic.

Police Sgt. Henry Sundermann, who so patiently listened to our plight and made the original recommendation for speed limit signs to be posted, also deserves commendation.

Asio City Attorney Paul Hupf and the city council who showed by their prompt action that they were alert to needs of our growing city, merit our praise.

It is a great relief to find so many people concerned with the safety of those of us using the school and Westlake park.

City Observes Library Week

Daly City has joined thousands of cities throughout the country this week in observing National Library Week—proclaimed by President John F. Kennedy.

Theme of the week is "Read, the Fifth Freedom, Enjoy It."

In observance, the Friends of the Daly City Library will sponsor a panel discussion at 8 tonight in the Coral Room of the Westlake Library branch, 275 Southgate avenue.

The subject will be "America—Here and Now as Painted by Our Press."

On the panel will be Homer C. Chandler, Millbrae City administrator; Mrs. Dan Dawson, principal, Fernando Rivera school and Robert Muller, instructional material consultant for the Jefferson Elementary School district.

O. Wayne Douglas, attorney and member of the Jefferson Elementary school board, will moderate the discussion.

During the week, a moratorium on overdue fines will be declared in an effort to have books returned, according to Samuel Chandler, city librarian.

Daly City has two units in its library system—the Westlake branch and the John Daly branch at 6351 Mission street.

"I feel the response of Daly City people to National Library Week as well as the use of the library throughout the year has been excellent," Chandler said.

The daily circulation of the two branches averages about 830 books per day, and that number is "steadily increasing," Chandler said.

Last year 248,000 books were checked out by residents—about 50,000 more than the previous year.

"The opening of the Westlake branch in February, 1961, accounts for the increase," he said.

Daly City has 37,000 books and has facilities for a capacity of 55,000.

"Although even 55,000 is far below the American Library association standards, it is certainly better than during the 20 years prior to the opening of the Westlake branch," Chandler said.

Chandler believes the collection of the library is "well-balanced."

Westlake Art Show Planned

Westlake's fifth annual Art Fair will be held May 15-18, according to an announcement made today by the Westlake Merchants association.

Applications and information may be obtained from Seymour's of Westlake, headquarters for collecting exhibits.

The show is open to all Bay Area artists. Valuable prizes will be awarded in three divisions of the contest: adult, senior student and junior student, according to shopping center officials.

Last year's show drew a record number of 450 paintings, which were displayed on the shopping center mall.

The Bay Area Arts and Crafts guild also will have art works on display during the four-day show.

Bones of pelicans found in deposits 30 to 40 million years old are of the same genus as living pelicans.

OUR FIRST annual Pacific championships are finished and the teams and scores in order of finish were: Hal's Cleaners, 3121; the Sandy Braggers, 3109; Gabby's Gang, 3101, and Marv's Marauders, 3100.

In first place for the singles was our fighting fireman, Joe Kocher with 700 on the nose. He was closely followed by Dan Barnes, 683; Jon Marshall, 662, and Bill Pond at 679.

The Junior league has been organized for summer and will begin May 4 at 11 a.m. Any one interested in the Family league—the Adult Junior league—is urged to call Bob West at the bowl. Serra Bowl

PHIL BOLANDER, a 164 average bowler in the Bankers league, paced his Bank of California team to a 2-1 win over Wells Fargo number 2 Thursday night on a terrific 641 series. In his second stanza Phil opened with nine strikes in-a-row and had Serra spectators sitting on the edge of their seats in tense expectation of a possible perfect game. A tenth frame single pin stopped Phil before the gates of glory and he had to settle for a towering 277 game.

Ladies laurels this week goes to Liz Dulak who strung seven strikes on her way to a torrid 223 in the Wednesday morning Feather Duster ladies league.

Wade Yancy led his Eakin and Eakin team to a three game sweep over Harrison Realty with a stinging 222-602 effort in 828 scratch action.

As the Serra winter bowling season draws to a close scores are rising and competition is getting hotter. Steve Kropog posted a high game in the 750 masters loop with a 227-536 series as his Steve's Flying "A" team swept all four points from the Tes Auto Wreckers.

WEDNESDAY evening is tournament night at Serra bowl for the Westlake Bridge club division of the American Contract Bridge league. Director Art Westerveld presides at the 7:30 p.m. meetings and any questions regarding this activity should be directed to him at Bayview 1-9340.

Bob Brown bagged a 239-573 series in the 806 scratch league as his Johnny's 2400 club team took all three games from the Bear Photo service five.

Stan Clark paced his Gilt Edge Meat Market team to a 3-1 victory over Brouillard Construction in the 700 handicap loop with a strong 248-540 tally.

Paul Pedroni totaled a classy 228-611 in last weeks Knights of Columbus kegling, and Jack Matthews picked up 225 and 827 in the newly formed Magicians league.

Westlake Bowl

FOR THE SECOND consecutive week, Tim Dumm took home the $150 first prize in the Weekend Gold Coast Sweeper as he rolled a six-game total over the 300 mark. Second prize of $50 went to Dave Campbell while Al Palmer won $24 for placing third. Since this popular feature is limited to sixteen bowlers, the 180 and above average shooters are registering early.

As the Canco league ended the winter session and made plans to start the summer session Monday, Angie Lopez gave his fellow-bowlers something to remember him by as he converted the 4-7-9-10 split—a shot that was worth $28,000 on the "Make That Spare" television show a few months ago. Eleth Chappet played the part of leading lady on the last night as she shot games of 216 and 226 on her way to a 593 series.

Sunday afternoon will find over 100 bowlers visiting Westlake for the annual State Young Men's Institute Bowling tournament. Chairman Leo Rivello announced entries have been received from all parts of California.

Vince Ferrigno and Art Krause ran neck and neck in the 704 Jackpot Sweeper as Vince shot 708 and Art turned in a 707 handicap series. However, Vince used all his strikes in the Sweeper as Ross Guleb beat him one strike to none in the Jackpot Rolloff to retain his king of the hill title.

One pin kept Jack Glass Sr. from membership in the 600 club as he posted a 599 series and a high game of 217 to lead the 805 Scratch league.

OPEN PLAY bowlers are taking over the lanes these nights as the winter leagues draw to a close and league bowlers take a few weeks off before starting summer competition.

Les Reams and Freeman Boyett won paid entries in the Westlake Rolloff of the Gold Coast Classic by leading their divisions during the second qualifying week while Tim Dunn, Gary Moeller, Wes Hill and Ralph Brown won paid entries by placing in the top two spots of each division in the weekly rolloff of the first week qualifiers.

With entries running far ahead of last year, it now seems certain that the total prize fund will approach $50,000 in the singles tournament, which runs until June 2.

The high roller in the Marche club last Monday night was Bruno Panucci who posted a big 230 game and 877 series.

Across the Bowl, Mel Mosk was leading the B'nai B'rith league with a 640 series on a high game of 231.

Infield Defense Command

SURE GLOVES — These four players will man the infield defense for the Terra Nova Tigers this year. Infield will be one of the Tigers' strong points, coach Roger Miller says.

IN NPAL CHASE

Tigers Bank on Defense

By RON BATES

THE TERRA NOVA Tigers will be counting heavily on their infield to help them in a quest for the North Peninsula league baseball crown this season.

"We're going to be a good, strong defensive club," said Tiger coach Roger Miller.

The play of the young infield has been "one of the highlights of the practice season," according to Miller.

Several opposing coaches have commented that the infielders with Marty Coil at first, Bill Zander at second, John Cook at shortstop and Jim Hawker at third handle themselves "quite well."

Cook is the only senior among the four.

Miller had special praise for Zander, calling him "one of the best, if not the best second basemen in the league."

"He's like an antelope. He gets a good jump on the ball and any fly ball in his area is a sure out. He is always there to take the throw from Cook on the double play and handles the ball well."

Zander was recently elected team captain for the Tigers.

Cook also covers a great deal of territory in his position at shortstop and has made "some very good plays," Miller said.

"He has gone deep several times to cut down blows that could have gone for extra bases.

He and Zander make a good double-play combination." Coil, at first, is a good target, the coach said. He has a good stretch and is credited with making some good saves.

"Hawker has also shown promise. He seems to have more poise and confidence in his fielding and has a good throw to first."

First-string catcher Bill Hensley deserves credit also, Miller said. "He is a sure man on a pop fly and keeps the team alert to the situation."

MILLER BELIEVES that "a little hitting" could make the Tigers title contenders.

"We've left some men on base and that could have won games for us."

It will be the hitting that determines who will play the outfield, the coach said. At present, Nick Bothe, Dan Gentry and Jim Smith (who alternates with Hensley at catcher) are manning center, right and left fields respectively.

Mike La Fontaine and Bill Zukosky, however, are pushing them for their positions. Utility infielder John Miller is expected to see action as a pinch-hitter.

Gentry and Hensley hit home runs for the Tigers last year and Miller is hoping they will repeat. Outfielder Ray Kaufman, when healthy, also is expected to help in the hitting department.

No one has cracked the home run barrier yet this year but Zander, Coil and Cook all have doubles.

Coil has been the most consistent hitter for Terra Nova—batting around the .300 mark, according to Miller.

"The hitters have been sharpening their eyes. I feel they will do much better in league competition where there is more balance."

The Terra Nova coach thought at the beginning of the season that pitching was going to be the weakest point of the team but he has been pleasantly surprised.

"The pitching staff has been steadily improving."

Most of the heavy pitching load will fall on senior right-hander Kevin Roberts. Rich Cameron and sophomore Kurt Hubbard also are expected to help as starters with Coil seeing action as a reliever.

Hibbard was moved up from the frosh-soph team towards the end of the practice season. In his first appearance on the varsity against San Mateo, he scattered six hits in pitching a 1-0 shutout, got two of the five Tiger hits and scored the winning run.

IN SIZING UP the rest of the league, Miller said:

"There is no one team that is so strong as to make the race a runaway."

El Camino and South San Francisco appear to be the toughest, but Jefferson can be a surprising team and Westmoor is constantly improving, he said.

"Oceana may be the surprise of the league. They are a hustling ball club. "All in all, the league is fairly balanced and it will depend on situations how it will come out. Our team is beginning to jell and we'll be a strong contender."

A good deal of the reserve strength of Terra Nova was taken when Oceana opened its doors. Seven of the players on the first string of the Tigers' frosh-soph team transferred.

"It hurt us, but not to a point where it would knock us out of the running," Miller said. "Ernie Brede was one of our top prospects and Dave Brazzelle would have helped as a pitcher. With Brazzelle gone there is a gap in our pitching. We have two seniors and a sophomore as starters—no juniors."

As the league battle progress one thing will be evident, Miller said. "We'll be in there in every ball game."

The New York Yankee duo of starter Whitey Ford and reliever Marshall Bridges combined to pitch three shutouts during the 1962 season.

Ram Spikes

Set Record In Victory

The Westmoor High school spikesters, led by Roy Pinelli and Fenton Pettit, defeated Oceana Thursday, 20-10, in a North Peninsula league dual track meet.

Pinelli turned in the best time in the 220 yard dash in San Mateo county to date when he ran it in 22.0. One step behind Pinelli, and given a 22.2 timing, was Oceana's Bill Skirvans. The time was a school record.

Skirvans took the only first for the Sharks by winning the 800 in 2:03.7. He scored 8 of Oceana's ten points.

Pinelli also scored a first in the 100 yard dash with a 10.4 clocking. Westmoor also won the Class B meet, 78-25 to 29-15.

The Rams made it a clean sweep for the day as they bested Oceana in the Class C division, 45-41. Little Mike Nunes of Oceana took two firsts in the class C meet, triumphing in the 120 low hurdles, the high jump and placing second in the 75 yard dash.

Tennis Series Is Scheduled

Professional tennis returns to northern California tonight with the staging of the first playoff match of the World Series of Tennis in San Francisco's Cow Palace.

Featuring Rod Laver, Ken Rosewall, Earl Buchholz and Andres Gimeno, the Cow Palace tournament will be a head-and-head competition, two singles and a doubles match, the ultimate quest being $112,500 in prize money.

For Laver, the first amateur grand slam winner since Don Budge in 1938, it will be the first northern California appearance either as an amateur or a professional.

The Washington Senators have the smallest farm system of any team in the American league with one Class AA and three Class A farm affiliations.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

LENT HAS passed and every place I've been lately the hostess has been making up for lost time with desserts. The making and serving of calorie-laden goodies seem to be the order of the day. So for the next few columns we will concentrate on desserts — some difficult, some easy but all delicious.

Mrs. Lois Bowers, of 95 Crestline avenue, Daly City, served this dessert and it's delicious. Lois works in the office at Pauline Brown school and says she especially likes this dessert because it can be made ahead — sparing her that last minute rush that a working girl hates.

RASPBERRY DELIGHT

- 2 pkgs. raspberries jell-o
- 2 pkgs. frozen raspberries
- 1 large angel food cake
- 2 cups whipped cream
- 2½ cups hot water

Dissolve the raspberry jell-o in hot water. Add the frozen raspberries and refrigerate until the mixture is slightly set. Beat very lightly, very lightly indeed, just enough to break up the raspberries and fold in the whipped cream. Pour this whole mixture over the angel food cake, which has been broken into small pieces about the size of large marbles. (Tear the cake apart with forks so it will retain its lightness). Mix this with a light hand and pour into a large, oblong pan and refrigerate over night.

WOULD IT AWAKEN a horrible memory if I asked you if you have ever made a beautiful pie and accidentally dropped it on the floor? I think the first reaction is that you want to fall on the floor yourself and kick and scream. But then you calm down and decide you'll serve canned fruit and cookies instead.

Well, this must have happened to a cook who decided that an upside down pie looked pretty good, so she made one deliberately. (Not on the floor, I hasten to add.) And it is good. I've made it many times.

UPSIDE-DOWN APPLE PIE

- 3 cups sliced apples
- 2 tsp. butter
- ½ cup walnut halves
- 1/3 cup brown sugar
- ½ cup white sugar
- 2 tsp. flour
- ½ tsp. cinnamon
- ¼ tsp. nutmeg
- ¼ tsp. salt

Pare and slice 3 cups apples. Melt butter and pour in 9-inch pan. Place walnuts in pan and sprinkle with brown sugar. Mix rest of ingredients. Place pastry in pan, prick with fork. Put in apple mixture. Cover with tip pastry. Prick. Bake at 375 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes. Remove from oven and cool five minutes. Turn upside down on plate. Serve warm.

PASTRY

- 1½ cup sifted flour
- ½ tsp. salt
- 1/3 cup shortening
- 1 egg
- 1 Tbsp. lemon juice

Sift flour and salt in bowl. Blend in shortening. Beat egg and lemon juice. Chill in wax paper. Then roll out on lightly floured board and fit into pie pan.

A COUPLE of ideas about this pie. Apples vary and the cooking time for an apple pie is not exact. Slice your apples thin and be sure to check with a fork to see that they are done to the tenderness you like before removing your pie from the oven. Second thought: be sure to use a large plate when you turn out the pie for it's juicy from the nuts, sugar and butter in the bottom of the pan.

State College Group Presents Actors Drama

The drama department of San Francisco State college is now offering Luigi Pirandello's "Six Characters in Search of an Author."

First produced in Rome in 1922, the play stirred up controversy regarding the author's precepts on reality. The play is a story of a company of actors who are about to produce a play they neither like nor understand. This real world is invaded by unreal characters from an unfinished play.

Because the play has not been completed, some of the characters are more fully drawn than others.

Ultimately two conflicts result: one between the actors and characters, and the other among the characters themselves.

The production will be presented at 8:30 p.m. today through Saturday in the Little Theatre.

Louanne's Datebook

By Louanne Heath

WHEN THE CITY of Pacifica enrolls the first foreign exchange student in Terra Nova High school, probably next fall, just about everyone in the community will be entitled to feel a bit of personal pride in the accomplishment.

The Pacifica branch of the American Field Service is only weeks old but the extent of its influence is spreading with a rapidity that speaks volumes about the efficiency and devotion of the civic and social leaders that are its backbone.

Before the national headquarters of the AFS had approved the local charter the chapter had already made extensive plans for a gala fund raising affair to raise money to bring an exchange student to Terra Nova next fall. Initial plans called for a Champagne-theater party and international ball for the adults of Pacifica. The original idea has now been expanded to include a late theater party for the younger set, a youthful variety show during an intermission of the ball and the sale of shares in the project.

The latest facet of the campaign, the sale of shares, was launched Monday by the student members of the AFS and their youthful assistants on campus. The student shares are being sold for twenty-five cents each and any student who purchases four shares will be given a pass to attend the late show the night of the ball.

The share plan, according to Mrs. George Mason of the AFS finance committee, is not to be confined to the high school group. Mrs. Mason and other members of the committee have begun canvassing local stores and visiting meetings of various Pacifica clubs and organizations in order to sell unlimited shares in the exchange student program. Merchants and groups will be able to purchase a share by making a donation of any size and in return the AFS will present a beautifully engraved certificate, suitable for framing and display.

MRS. PETER MARKOVICH was elected chairman of the North Peninsula Circle of the Florence Crittenden Home of San Francisco at the organizational meeting held last Wednesday morning.

Thirty-eight women were on hand to take part in the formation of the group, the election of officers, the selection of a project in to hear an address by Jean Bolten, director of the home.

Other officers selected were Mrs. Thomas Bocci Jr., vice chairman; Mrs. Warren Hutchins, recording secretary; Mrs. Phillip Glebow, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Charles Poggio, treasurer.

Church Plans Youth Banquet

A "Youth Banquet" is planned at the Westlake Community Baptist church tomorrow at 6:15 p.m. to raise funds to send children to the Redwood Glen Baptist Camp in La Honda this summer, according to Mrs. Glenn Gibson, chairman.

Dinner is $1.75 for adults, one dollar for children. Pastor Hansel Stenbridge is urging full support of the dinner in order to raise sufficient funds for the youth work.

"It is difficult for young people to get a balanced perspective of life when there are so many modern diversions," Dr. Stenbridge said. "More real religious teaching is accomplished in this one week than it is able to impart to a child during a whole year of Sunday school attendance."

The camp is situated among the coastal redwoods on the banks of Pescadero Creek. The youths will be under the supervision and leadership of several ministers and sponsors from all the various Baptist churches in the area.

They will be lodged in cabins for a week and are assigned to age groups, which range from fourth grade students to high school. A daily program consists of spiritual, recreational and art work.

Glenn Gibson will be in charge of the groups attending from the Westlake Community Baptist church.

The first annual Holy Trinity Church Golf Invitational tournament will be conducted Monday at the Olympic Golf and Country club.

Construction is expected to be completed in October of this year. At the conclusion of the tournament, participants will attend an awards dinner at the golf course club house.

JEFFERSON JOTTINGS

By STEPHANIE DAMATO

WHEELS AT WORK—In early May, the Lincoln Mustangs of San Francisco will gallop into the Jefferson Indian reservation for a joint meeting of the two schools executive boards. Purpose of the meeting is to see how other schools in the Bay Area run their student government.

SPIRIT is rocking the campus this week as the annual "Spirit Days" have arrived. Themes for the planned events are Outer-Space Days and Mother Goose Fairy Tales. All the different tribes will gather on the school front lawn tomorrow and Friday for a big pow-wow and rally.

SOME JEFF students could have used television's Sam Benedict last week. Student court, under Justice Ken Klassen, found eight guilty of various school misdemeanors and meted out punishment accordingly.

The girls of G.A.A. will hold the first annual Mother and Daughter award dinner ever held on the Jefferson campus, according to president Joyce DiMaggio. The dinner will start at 6 p.m. in the school cafeteria. Afterward, the girls and their mothers will enjoy volleyball, badminton and a few other activities.

"OUR ENCHANTED EVENING" is the theme of the senior ball to be held in the Colonial room of the St. Francis hotel in San Francisco May 31.

WHERE are all the Michaelangelos at Jefferson going to? The Fine Arts club will be discontinued due to a lack of participation. The club will hold a last chance meeting this afternoon to see if it's worth struggling for. Come on, artists!

The California Scholarship Federation club will take a field trip to Jack London's home and other points of interest in Sonoma today. C. S. F. dinner plans for later in the year are underway. Ron Bjorkland is the president.

Hi-Fi Club Names Officers

The executive council of the Hi-Fi Teen club has elected a new slate of officers to guide the club activities from May to September. Judie Reed, Jefferson High school junior, was elected chairman and classmate Elfin Dahme was named program chairman.

Joanne Doyle, Jeff senior, continues as secretary while Westmoor junior Cecie Munnish assumes the newly created position of treasurer.

News of North County Teen-agers

Westmoor Whirl

By SHERRY ROSEN

STRANGE PHENOMENA have been occurring daily in the lower hall as students who are too rushed to go through the doorway have been blithely stepping through the glass panels surrounding the door, perhaps in a desperate attempt to reach the classroom not more than two seconds after the bell. However, close examination revealed that the magical secret lay in the fact that one of the panels had been missing for several days.

RAMSVILLE AT RANDOM: Affairs at the hilltop high have been somewhat "other-directed" these days as students and faculty look forward to next year's life and hard times. Underclassmen have completed pre-registration while WHS counselors have been counseling future freshmen at the eighth grade level.

Also absorbed in the future are many seniors who are spending anxious hours by the mailbox these days, awaiting acceptances or—it shouldn't happen—rejections from their chosen colleges and universities.

Either adding hope or dwindling chances for a college education is the fact that quarter grades and College Board examination scores were all disclosed last week. Thinking positively, however, the seniors have been undergoing fittings for their graduation caps and gowns and competing for the honor of class speaker at commencement.

Good news for Rams who prefer food for thought at lunchtime: the library now will be open during both lunches for student use and sergeants-at-arms will patrol the area.

CIRCLE THESE DATES on your Ram calendar: April is full of all sorts of events at Westmoor. Uppermost in junior minds is "Soiree Enchante," the Junior Prom scheduled for Friday night. Tomorrow night marks the annual influx of parents for open house and Monday afternoon will bring an American Field Service-sponsored Talent Show.

Directed by Howard Loeffler of the music department and Robin Jackson of the drama department, the performance will be open to the public at 25 cents per person. Proceeds will go towards establishing an Experiment in International Living program at WHS.

Junior Statesmen are busy planning for the May 4 Regional Convention to be held at Westmoor. Attending will be some 150 "legislators" from the Golden Gate region and the day will include speakers, discussion groups and a dance as well as an afternoon legislative session.

CLASSROOM CLASSICS: Playing field on the south side of campus has become one of the most compact golf courses in the Bay Area as the girls from physical education have taken it over for their game—driving foot-high stakes in the ground for flags and using empty cans for holes. Chemistry students have been studying Quantum Mechanics under E. J. Logan and Anne Golden. Norman MacDonald's third and fourth-year Spanish students are reading poetry in guess-what-language. Stuart Mephram's physics students are handing in their projects for the year this week. Among them is a machine that can move itself by vibratory motion. Challenging the traditional Ram as mascot of WHS was the friendly and Lassie-like collie who "visited" the hilltop last week. Observed being firmly led out of the cafeteria by the assistant principal, the persistent scholar later strolled into an English class and listened to five minutes of a literature discussion.

Student Will Attend Class On Scholarship

Westmoor junior Denise Jamn will attend a summer session at the Davis campus of the University of California on a scholarship provided by the National Science foundation.

Denise, who has shown an avid interest in the field of science and wishes to explore it more extensively, will study comparative biology during the six-week course, which will begin June 23 and continue through August 2.

Participating in lab work, listening to lectures, and doing individual scientific research are included in the activities.

Denise has maintained an A average in her classes.

Participating in extra-curricular activities as well, she was a Westmoor drum majorette last year and now is a member of the California Scholarship Federation, the American Field Service and Junior Statesmen.

She plans to go on to the University of California at Berkeley and study science.

Pacifica Teens Plan Program

The Pacifica Teen club will hold its last regularly scheduled sports night May 1 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at Oceana High school.

Featured will be a co-ed volleyball tournament. There must be at least two girls and two boys on a team.

A team may sign up that night before 7:45 p.m. The tournament will begin at 8.

The next scheduled teen club meeting will be tonight at Pedro Valley school from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. The Park, Beach and Recreation department has additional information.

Junior Teen Dance Slated

"Dance Where Ya Wanna" will be the theme of the first city-wide junior high dance Saturday, May 18, from 7 to 10 p.m. in the War Memorial Community center.

Under the sponsorship of the Daly City Recreation department, the dance is being planned by a committee representing the six junior high teen clubs now in operation.

The event will be open to all junior teen club members and their guests. Admission will be 50 cents for members and 75 cents for guests.

The evening will feature a top disc jockey and will include an intra-club contest. Each of the clubs will compete in five categories for a perpetual trophy as the year's top junior high teen club.

The categories include: ticket sales, talent contest, dance contest, king and queen (personality contest) and decorations.

In the decoration contest, each club will decorate a different part of the War Memorial Community center.

Ticket sales for the dance will open Friday at each junior teen club.

Springfest Program Is Set May 18

Ticket sales open Friday night at all six junior high teen clubs for a springfest, "Dance Where Ya Wanna," scheduled May 18 from 7 to 10 p.m. in the War Memorial Community center.

Tickets to this event, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation department, are 50 cents for club members and 75 cents for guests. Dress for the evening will be summer dresses for girls and slacks and a sport shirt and sport coat or sweater for boys.

The highlight of the evening will be the intra-club competition for the springfest perpetual trophy.

Winner of this award will be judged best junior teen club of the year.

Clubs will be competing in five separate contests as means of earning points towards the overall championship. Contests include:

Ticket sales contest — based on the amount of tickets sold (both member and guest) in proportion to each club's registered memberships.

Decorations contest — each club will decorate a section of the War Memorial building, based on a phase of the general theme.

Talent show — each club will enter one act.

Twist contest — each club will enter its champion "twist" couple to compete against other groups.

The final contest will be a king and queen personality contest. Each club will enter a couple who will be judged on personality, poise and appearance, dress and grooming and response to a series of questions about teenage life. Judges for the contest will be local community experts and personalities in each area of competition.

12-Faced Clock Being Restored

MASSILLON, Ohio — Had inches long, into which mercury will be poured.

"The difficulty now," explains Caswell, "is that according to the books I've referred to, clocks of this type take 24 pounds of mercury. I haven't been able to get that much mercury."

"The mercury provides weight and takes up the variation in temperature. This would allow for an adjustment, say, if the sun were shining on the clock."

Here's what Caswell, an expert brass and bronze craftsman, faced at the outset of his task:

The 7-foot-tall walnut cabinet—the top half of which is a glass square—had been smashed by vandals who broke into the museum. The brass works were corroded and several of its 104 gears re gone. There were 27 parts missing out of a total of about 280.

"I knew if I made the gears and minor parts it would work," says Caswell.

Being a novice at clock repairing, Caswell began by dissecting a clock to see what it was all about. He also referred to books on the subject.

Who made the clock is a mystery, but Caswell calculates it was built in the early 1800s.

When fully restored, the clock will be exhibited around the country before it is eventually sold.

Now Caswell finds he isn't through fixing rare clocks.

"I've got seven others, which I'm going to accept, to fix clocks—some up to 180 years old," he declared.

The United States granted independence to the Philippines on July 4, 1946.

By DON MILLER

THE STATESMEN of the world, often besieged by the press about information they can't divulge, would have applauded the artful performance given by Yukon survivor Ralph Flores the other day.

He turned in a masterpiece of closed mouthmanship.

Flores was the guest of Julius Castelan at the weekly meeting of the Daly City-Colma Lions club.

The 42-year-old survivor of 49 days in the wilderness of British Columbia sat quietly while Castelan went through the motions of introducing him.

From the background Castelan rattled off, most Lions began to feel Flores might have quite a bit to say.

The San Bruno father of four girls and two boys once lived on Hillside boulevard in Daly City, Castelan said. He was born in Mexico and has lived in California for the past 20 years.

For the past 10 years he's been a pilot and the Yukon accident was the first he'd ever had. The crash and the subsequent seven weeks of desperate survival living cost him 58 pounds.

"However, in 11 days he's gained back 38 pounds. That shows you what kind of a Mexican he is," Castelan observed. Somebody else quipped:

"It shows he's going to be a fat one."

Flores grinned—the first thaw in what looked like a built-in scowl he'd acquired long before the Yukon ordeal.

Castelan then wound up his introduction with this indication of what was to follow:

"His (Flores') experiences have been very interesting from the little he's been able to tell me."

With that, Flores rose from his chair and supported by crutches (he's lost four toes through frostbite) delivered what must have been the shortest speech by a famous guest in the history of the Lions club.

Speaking with a Mexican accent, Flores thanked his hosts for inviting him. He said he regretted he couldn't say anything more. And he sat down.

Time: 13 seconds!

THE REASON for this cautiously-worded "speech," one that he's been repeating ever since he was rescued, is $35,000.

That's the tidy sum The Saturday Evening Post reportedly is forking over for the exclusive right to publish the account of Flores' plane crash and of the subsequent 49 days he and his 21-year-old Brooklyn passenger, Helen Klaben, spent in the Canadian wilds.

Flores isn't talking until the magazine article is published (in about two weeks) because he's been told not to. At stake is that $35 grand.

Well, we can't blame him. Neither, for that matter, could the members of the Lions club who gave him a warm round of applause for his 13 seconds.

Later, we tried a bit of wheeling with a few questions that sounded innocent enough (we thought hopefully) but actually were designed to pry open a few closed doors.

Flores, however, demonstrated he had become a pro at closed mouthmanship. He politely shook his head, smiled for the second time and said he couldn't say anything.

"I have to say this each time I appear," he apologized. "They told me to seal my lips." He didn't specify the "they" but it was clear the "they" owned the $35,000.

FLORES AND MISS KLABEN, you may recall, were reported not so long ago to be at rather distant odds over the possession of a diary kept while they awaited rescue in the Yukon.

The pilot insisted, according to wire reports, that the diary was a continuation of the airplane's log and therefore his property.

Miss Klaben, said the same reports, stoutly claimed that she kept up the daily log and that it should be awarded to her.

The diary, of course, was and is a valuable chronicle of an amazing feat of survival and therefore by all the usual standards applied to such things, a most valuable document to magazines and newspapers.

Questioned about all this the other day, Flores denied the reports of a hassle between he and his passenger over possession of the log.

"It's just a misunderstanding," he allowed. "It's not true that we are in disagreement."

Asked, then, just what became of the diary, Flores again flashed that closed mouthmanship and mumbled only that "it's involved with the (magazine) article."

Deduction at this point leads us to the conclusion that all those reports of dissension between pilot and passenger may have been well founded at one time but it's obvious the suave voice of 35 grand has brought peace to the proceedings.

The diary apparently is in the hands of the magazine. Flores will go on appearing as a guest speaker with nothing to say and we'll all have to wait two weeks to find out just what it is he could say if he could.

Which is another way of saying that although money may talk, you can't talk until you've got the money.

RED FACE DEPARTMENT... While rambling on last week about Holland's floating monarch, the S.S. Rotterdam, we authoritatively mentioned this svelte lady of the seas weighed in at a cool 38,000 pounds.

Pounds, indeed! The word is TONS.

Saying the Rotterdam steams along with 38,000 pounds is like saying that Brigitte Bardot stepped on the scales the other day and the needle pointed to 150 kilograms (which on this side of the Atlantic would be 330 pounds).

We'll now pause for a moment of embarrassed silence.

Target—St. Francis Square

DAREDEVIL PARACHUTIST Kaz Ostrom will be one of the feature attractions at the St. Francis Square Shopping Center in Daly City on Saturday, May 4, at Grand Opening ceremonies for the Ben Franklin Variety store. Ostrom will jump from 10,000 feet and land on the shopping center parking lot. Ceremonies will get under way at 10 a.m., according to William Schaefer, president of the St. Francis Square Shopping Center Merchant's association. Ostrom has been jumping professionally for seven years.

Junior Colleges Being By-Passed Says CSM Chief

A blistering attack on the state legislature's treatment of California's junior colleges was delivered Wednesday by Dr. Julio Bortolazzo, College of San Mateo president and legislative chairman of the California Junior College Association in 1961 and 1962.

"The 'Wait 'til Next Year!' philosophy may be solace for hopeful baseball or football teams, but it is a sickening substitute of catchwords for cash as far as California's junior colleges are concerned," Dr. Bortolazzo said.

Dr. Bortolazzo issued a statement to all junior college districts in the state, urging immediate local action to block further delays in obtaining additional financial support for the junior colleges.

The San Mateo president stated, "I specifically charge the governor and the legislature with intention to breach the faith with the junior colleges and their communities on two counts: first, failure to distribute Proposition 1A moneys as agreed and second, failure to provide operational support as originally defined by the master plan.

He declared: "Until 1961, the junior college districts throughout the state of California did all construction of facilities and bought all lands with local tax moneys exclusively. In 1961, the legislature allocated five million dollars; in 1962 another five million dollars was authorized. But in both cases, the so-called poor districts received proportionately larger shares than size or any other factor warranted.

The San Mateo junior college district, classified as middle wealth on the basis of its assessed valuation—hence its tax yield—per student, received only $139,000 from these funds. "Then came the statewide ballot proposition for construction of facilities. The first measure, Proposition 3, was defeated overwhelmingly last May. As Proposition 1A, last November, the measure was passed, but only with outstanding junior college support on a local level. From Proposition 1A, which carries a total of $270,000,000 for the state's system of higher education and other facilities, only $20,000,000 was earmarked for junior colleges.

Agreement? "There was full agreement, albeit a gentlemen's agreement, that this money would be distributed to all junior colleges with capital outlay programs. But once again, rumor is rife that only poverty will determine the distribution of funds. The middle wealth districts, such as San Mateo, would get nothing," Dr. Bortolazzo declared. "This is the first breach of faith. Proposition 1A was passed with the help of all junior colleges throughout the state...

not just the poor districts. In every community, junior college adherents sought and received the support of the voters. The junior colleges worked for newspaper support in their own districts—and got it."

Daly City Engineer William Chapman will compete against three other San Mateo county residents in the Toastmaster International Serious Speech contest at the New Southern Restaurant in South San Francisco Saturday at 8 p.m.

Chapman will represent the Daly City Toastmaster's club. The other contestants in the area elimination are Charles Heimstadt representing the San Mateo club, George Dabney representing the Skyline club in Palo Alto and Bernard Barrish, representing the Pacifica P.M. club.

District competition will be held at the Cabana hotel in Palo Alto on May 25.

Charter night dinner for the Pacifica P. M. Toastmasters was held at the Sea bowl in Rockaway beach.

District Governor Mark Rodman presented the P. M. Toastmasters with their official club charter. Assistant area governor Ed Dominion installed the officers.

Regular meetings are held each Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Red Cross building at 600 Palm-etto, Sharp Park. All males over 21 interested in attending are cordially welcome at all regular meetings.

Members of the newly-elected executive councils of the junior high teen clubs meeting west of Junipero Serra clubhouse, the Tel-stars, Roof Raisers and Westlake Swingers, were guests of the Hi Fi Teen club's executive council recently at the Westlake Park clubhouse.

Ideas on how the operation and development of teen club activities is handled were exchanged.

Planning Shakeup Reviewed on Coast

The possibility of a complete shakeup in the city's planning services was reviewed in a joint study meeting of Pacifica city councilmen and planning commissioners last Wednesday.

Mayor Harold Feyge charged that the city is not administering its planning services as smoothly as possible because of the lack of coordination between various city agencies.

Among the suggestions proposed was that the city hire a full-time planning technician and use professional planning consultants only in special cases. The hiring of the new officer would free Mel Davis, administrative assistant, from routine planning duties and allow him more time as municipal financial officer, it was claimed.

The possibility of retaining a full-time planning director was also discussed, as was the advisability of allowing the present situation to remain, with an outside planning consultant firm retained on a full-time basis.

City Manager Karl A. Baldwin was asked to present cost estimates of various proposals at another study meeting last night.

Councilmen met in study session last week to review a long proposed land swap between Pacifica and Daly City in which some 30 acres of land in the new Doelger Development company's Fairmont development would be exchanged between the two cities. Baldwin was instructed to prepare a "concrete" land exchange for presentation to Daly City councilmen.

Schools Receive State Money

State Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan (27th District) announced last week that three school districts in San Mateo county will share in the proceeds of the $50 million in State School Building Aid Bonds sold by State Treasurer Bert A. Betts on April 10.

The districts in this area, which have current, approved applications for state aid to construct more classrooms, are Brisbane, Jefferson and Laguna Salada Union.

Closing Hours Set at Beach

District Superintendent Jess T. Chaffee of the state division of beaches and parks advises the chief of the division has approved a closing time of sunset for Thornton Beach state park in lieu of the former closing time of 10 p.m.

Thornton beach is a unit of the San Mateo beaches state park and is currently being developed for increased public use and enjoyment.

The staffing and facilities are not yet adequate for more extended opening hours and the closing hour change is made in co-operation with local enforcement agencies to reduce problems related to unsupervised night use of the area.

S.S.F. Bonds to Bank America

Sale of $575,000 worth of bonds of the South San Francisco Unified school district was awarded by the county board of supervisors last week to Bank of America and associates. The winning bid was for a net interest cost of 3.03 per cent. Six other bids were opened, ranging to a high of 3.14 per cent.

Garden Club Hears Talk On Conifers

The Daly City Garden club will have its first meeting under a new slate of officers Tuesday, May 7, at 8 p.m. in the War Memorial Community center, according to President William G. Huston Jr.

Guest speaker for the evening is Marvin D. Davis, assistant San Mateo county farm advisor in Half Moon Bay. He has been on the county agricultural staff for four years and studied at University of California at Davis and Utah State college.

His special interest is forestry and his topic for the Tuesday meeting will be "Care of Trees and Shrubs." Davis will discuss the cultural needs of conifers, shrubs, plants and trees indigenous to the area.

He will also bring the member gardeners up-to-date on the great variety of horticultural bulletins now available at the Half Moon Bay office.

Plants are to be donated by Joe's Nursery of Colma.

Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Richard Hunter and Mrs. G. Brenner. Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting. The meeting is open to the public.

Rain Hurts Fruit Crops

Ross R. Sanborn of the Pittsburg Farm Advisors' office reports that orchard problems have been coming in thick and fast. The Pittsburg office helps a wide variety of fruit and nut growers and the problems these growers are combating at this time will be reflected in the quality and quantity of these fruits which will be available to the consumer later on.

Sanborn reports that everyone experienced in the orchard business knows that cold rainy weather is bad. "Troubles started," said Sanborn, "clear back in the dormant period when the fog hung on so long and thick you couldn't see the tree ahead." He reports that bacterial canker has claimed a considerable number of trees this winter and damaging results are seen on apricots, almonds, and cherries. Usually by bloom time this disease has run its course, but these cold, wet, continual rains have kept the disease active.

Some almond trees are in the process of losing all their leaves. Leaves are not only dropping with scattered brown spots but young shoots are wilting. In addition to almonds this is happening, to some extent on apricots. When bacterial canker hits the bloom and leaf it is called "blast". Sanborn expects it to hit pears as well. "Fire Blight" is expected to give trouble also. This blight attacks many types of ornamentals in addition to fruit trees. The hawthornes and pryanthas are especially susceptible.

Social Security Benefits Rise In S.M. County

Monthly old-age, survivors, and disability insurance benefits in San Mateo county now top $2,000,000. Edward J. Foley, district manager of social security in San Mateo, has disclosed in releasing his annual county benefit data report.

The new monthly figure represents an increase of 11.5 per cent over the corresponding period last year.

"This increase can be attributed to the changes in the law in recent years, as well as to the growth of the county population as well as that of our aged population," Foley said.

Monthly benefits first became payable in January 1940, and they have continued without interruption for 23 years, accompanied by a steady growth in the number of beneficiaries. Foley noted that as of December 31, 1962, some 31,000 San Mateo residents were collecting about $27,500,000, annually from social security, an increase of 11 per cent over December 1961.

Late Rain Mixed Blessing

By IVA NEWMAN

This spring's continued rainy weather may have interfered with the Easter parade of finery, but every gardener has been offering silent, and not so silent, thanks for the liquid blessings. They have postponed watering chores, added to the growth of various garden plants, and kept the hillsides a deep, velvety green.

They have, however, created a number of after the rain chores well known in the east, but unusual for California. Local rosarians, with rose shows scheduled for the last weekend in April and the first one in May, are confronted with unusual problem of mildew control. In dryer springs many rosarians were able to keep this fungus under control with an occasional hosing of the foliage before breakfast. The early hour chosen for this washing job was so the foliage could dry quickly with the rising temperature. It also washed the fungus spores off the leaves before they could become firmly attached as the leaves need to warm up after a cold night for these spores to become active.

The mildew that attacks roses is the "Powdery Mildew," a white felt growth on young stems and buds as well as the surface of the leaves. The fungus enters the plant cells by means of little suckers which penetrate the outer layers of both stems and leaves. As the spores develop they force the leaves to crinkle up, the buds to develop lopsided and in general stunt the new growth. Preventive sprays and dusts are the usual method of keeping this disgusting fungus under control, but they must be used every seven to 10 days. This year, due to the continued rain this hasn't been possible.

Eastern garden practices call for the rosarian to spray or dust between showers. Sprays that contain a sticker-spreader, (a material that causes the spray to adhere more firmly to the leaf surfaces) have been used very effectively. These were put on as soon as the leaf surface is dry and if the rains held off until the spray could dry a pretty good protective coat was attained. However, the spray had to be repeated every four or five days or after every hard, prolonged shower. We turned to dust using a commercial preparation containing ferbam and micronized sulphur. We dusted as soon as the leaves ceased dripping but were still slightly moist. Drops of water on the foliage prevent good coverage and are quite likely to put the dust into a concentrated solution which will cause burning. Dusting has been fast and effective.

If you are one of the unfortunate with mildew well started on your rose plants, use one of the eradicator sprays such as Actidione of Mildex. Be sure to read the directions very carefully when using these materials and follow the recommendations of the manufacturer or you may burn your plants seriously. Watch carefully that you do not hit the same plant twice. Check the label for varieties that are allergic to the materials in these eradicator. One or two applications of these sprays cleans the mildew off the plants and you can go back to your regular spray or dust.

Pick Up Camellia Flowers

One of the most important after-the-rain jobs in cleaning up fallen camellia blooms and removing water-rotted blooms from the plants. Even in normal winter-spring weather fallen camellia flowers must be kept picked up due to the danger of camellia flower blight. This flower blight is limited to the blooms and is quite widespread throughout California as well as other camellia growing areas. Neatness is the best preventive. Every single flower and flower petal must be picked up off the soil as soon as possible. Better still, clip fading blooms from the plants before they have a chance to fall. Branches of bushy varieties for spent blooms that have become lodged among the branches. Do not put these blooms on the compost pile as this would be an ideal place for the blight spores to get started. Burn them or put them in the garbage can.

Camellia flower blight is limited to the flowers. It starts with brown spots on the petals, then a browning of the center. Soon the whole flower blights and turns brown. When fallen flowers lie on moist earth or mulch, spores multiply and find a home in the soil to wait for the next flowering season.

HOME & GARDENS

Cherry Tree Week's Plant

The Beni Hoshi flowering cherry tree, a single-flowered variety, is The Post Plant of the Week.

Beni Hoshi is just one of many varieties of this beautiful, spring-flowering tree. Around the Tidal Basin in Washington, D. C., is the Yoshino cherry, a gift from Japan that brings a great deal of beauty and pleasure to the people of the nation's capital. The Brooklyn Botanic garden, Brooklyn, New York, has a planting of several hundred flowering cherries that includes 34 different varieties. This planting is claimed to be the largest collection of flowering cherries in the United States.

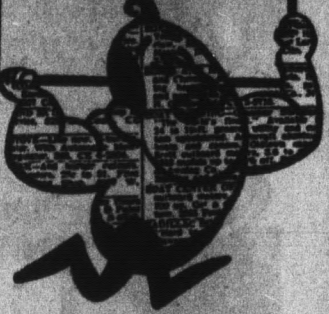

The ultimate height of most of the flowering cherries is about 30 feet.

The flowering cherry is a specimen plant and should be used as such in the landscape plan for it loses much of its beauty when crowded in with other plants.

A well-drained soil is a must for all flowering cherries. These trees are not noted for being long lived under the best conditions though we know many trees in Peninsula gardens are close to 50 years old and the famous planting in Washington is near that age. Heavy soil is short indeed if it is also poorly drained. Plant the flowering cherries high so the crown is higher than the surrounding soil to insure good drainage away from the crown as this is a most sensitive area. If the tree settles or subsequent mulching piles the soil about the trunk, pull it away forming a wide basin to keep the water away from the trunk. Cherry trees should not be pruned or cut unless it is absolutely necessary, then make the cut close to a lateral branch as stubs seldom send out new growth.

It's Hula Dance Time Mondays in Daly City

Tahitian Dance — Conga Style

A TAHITIAN dance, almost in conga style, is performed by, left to right, Angel Molina, Millie Hagmann and Bea Meade. The ladies are carrying flu flus.

YWCA Sponsors Weekly Classes

The next time you pass by Daly City's War Memorial Community center on a Monday afternoon or evening and hear the lilting strains of Hawaiian music, don't think your ears are deceiving you.

The recorded music you hear is the real thing. It's the accompaniment to one of the most popular programs offered by the North County branch of the YWCA—hula dance instruction.

Each Monday afternoon and evening, classes for both children and adults are conducted in four basic Hawaiian dances.

The dances in the way they are performed try to tell a story.

At the teaching helm of these classes is Mrs. Jerry Matlock of 3120 Dublin drive, Westborough. She has been teaching Hawaiian dances for the past 20 years.

"Within eight weeks, you should be able to learn at least two of the dances," she contends. And she adds:

"We've found that this sort of instruction develops poise and personality and is good for the figure."

Mrs. Matlock also teaches for the San Francisco YWCA. She has three classes each Thursday.

In addition, she is associated with the Anna Marie Gavin Dance Studio in San Francisco.

She first became interested in Hawaiian dances through an acquaintance with Sol Bright, band leader, dancer and entertainer.

Since then, she has studied with various teachers, including a number of instructors in the Hawaiian Islands.

The North County YWCA has begun Mondays a new series of dance classes at the Community center, under Mrs. Matlock's guidance.

Classes for children, 6 to 12 years old, will begin at 3:30 p.m. Teen-age girls will be in class from 4:15 to 5 p.m.

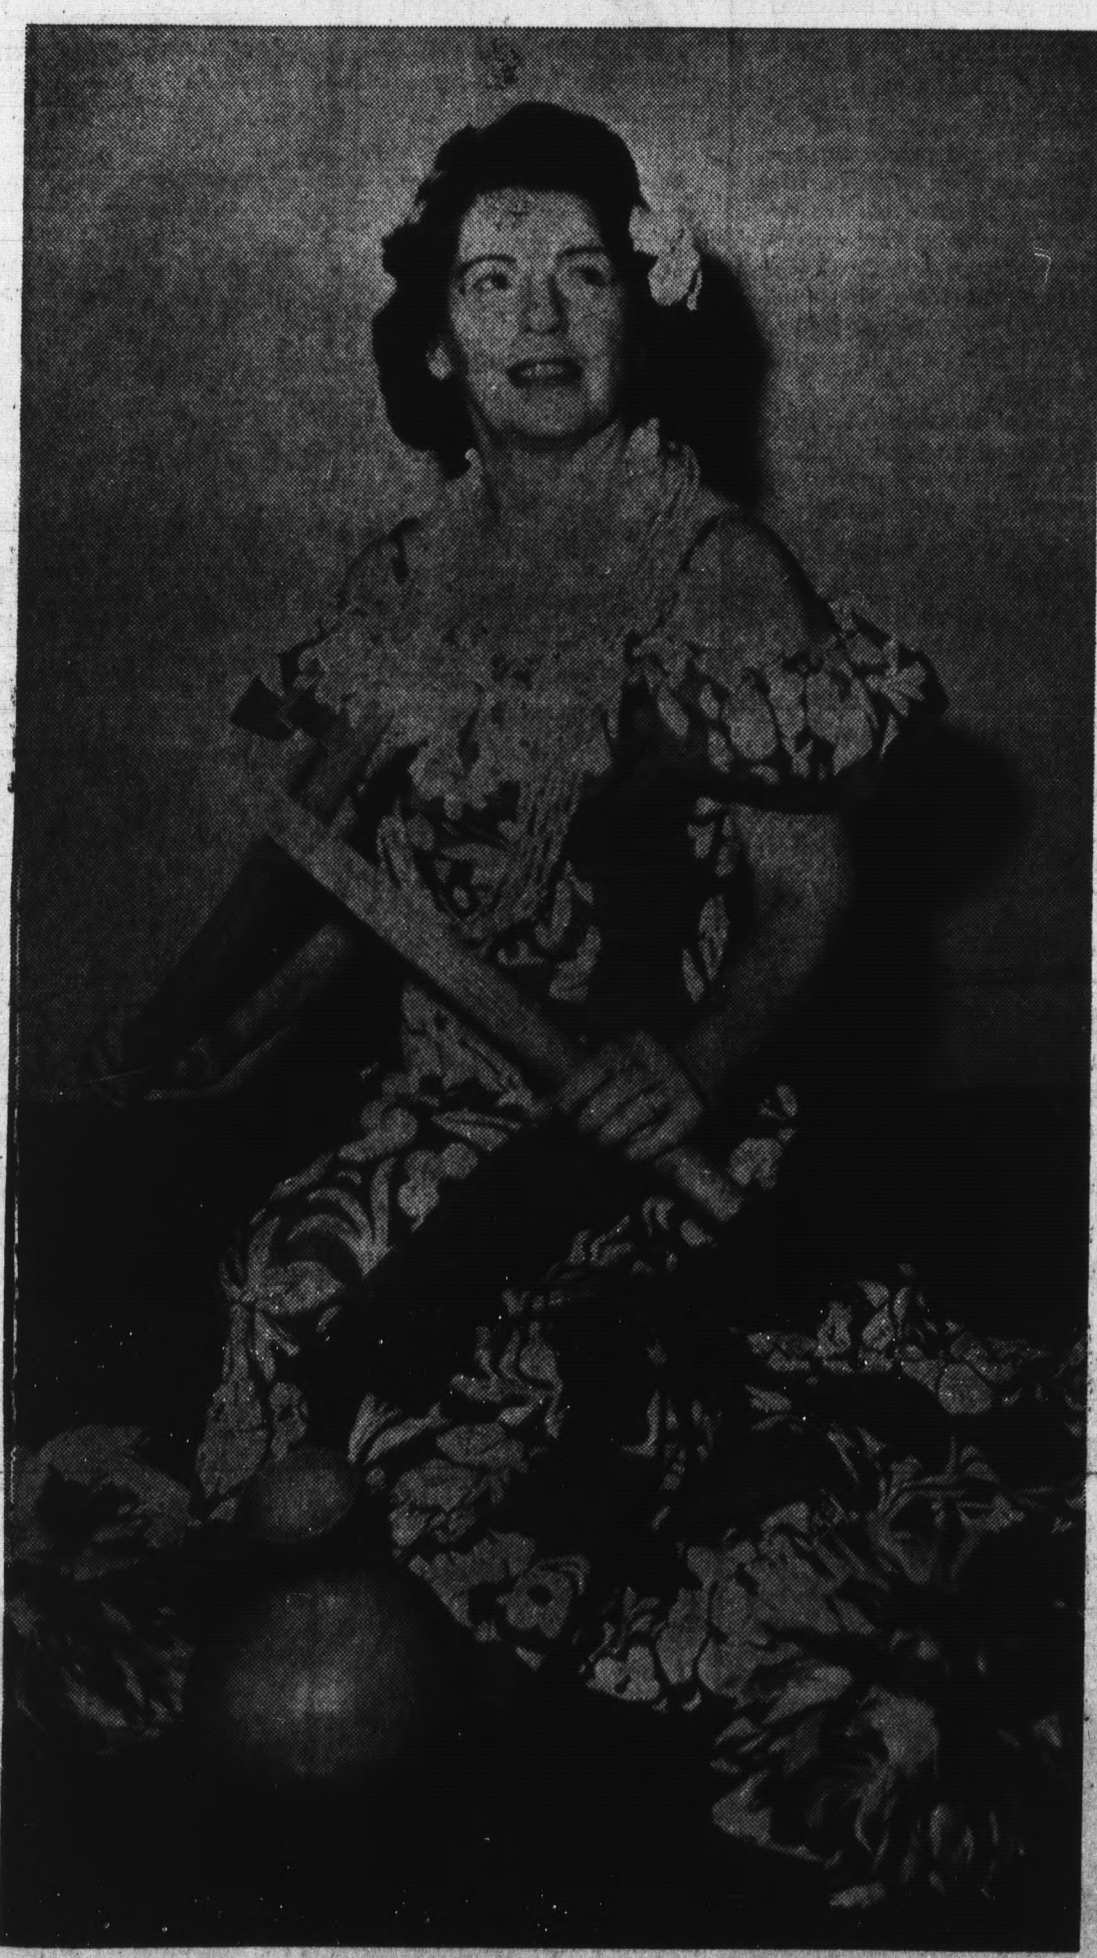

In the evening, a beginning class for adults will begin at 7:30. An advanced class for adults will begin at 8:15.

Right in Swing

BEA MEADE of Colma is all wrapped up here in the intricacies of a South Seas dance. The costume she's wearing is Tahitian.

South Seas Attire

A HAWAIIAN holo, a dress with train, is worn by Mrs. Jerry Matlock, dance instructor. She holds bamboo sticks, or what the Hawaiians call pullis. At her feet is an ipu or gourd. Mrs. Matlock has taught Hawaiian dances for 20 years.

Class Is in Session

FOLLOWING instructions from Mrs. Jerry Matlock, the teacher, these children learn how to depict the thought, "It's not hard to understand," through the medium of a Hawaiian dance. Most all dances of the South Seas depict thoughts or expressions.

The Alika

THE DANCE, aliika, gets a lively interpretation from Millie Hagman. She holds bamboo sticks in her hands while keeping rhythm.

Time Out

RESTING between dances is Bea Meade who is wearing a complete Tahitian outfit with headdress.

Family Style Dining At Keith's On Weekends

Last week, I alerted you that Keith Williamson, the wide-awake Chicken and Steak House operator of 1001 California drive in Burlingame, had another restaurant surprise in store for his many customers—and here it is: Keith has taken over the building next door and converted it into a dining and banquet room which seats up to 80 persons.

A Keith production wouldn't be complete without a special dinner—so a family style spread is served in the new room on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday (includes soup, salad, fried chicken, mashed potatoes, vegetable, beverage and dessert) and is prepared for parties of three to four persons in a price bracket to please all—$4.10, plus tax; five to six persons may dine (the above menu) for just $8.05. This is Keith's way of saying "Come on in and bring the family."

Keith's Chicken and Steak House is open seven days a week. Service in the new room on weekends. Arrangements may be made for banquets during the early part of the week. Last minute advice: Be sure and order a home-made pie to take out.

MARVIN ALLDAFFER has been named manager of the new Hillsdale Lyons Coffee Shop restaurant. Aldaffer, a graduate of the San Francisco City College Restaurant and Hotel school, has been associated with the Lyons-Magnus, Inc. for the past 10 years.

Artist Paul L. Tapia's display of wall murals at the Piccadilly Circus, is causing plenty of eye lifting at the pop Burlingame club. Conversation at the Bit of England is (you guessed it) baseball and the Giants. Jay Petty can call the batting average of almost every Giant player—even at this young stage of the game. The Charm Garden's "Cultural Chinese Cuisine" has been acclaimed many times by luncheon and dinner guests. And since the addition of the new Key Sauce, now available for home purchases, the raves have been three-fold. On your next visit here, make sauce inquiries for take out.

One of my favorite Executive Chef de Cuisine is Hans Kalitzki of the Burlingame Hyatt House, where smiling Ed Sullivan, the general manager, calls the operation signals. To my knowledge, Hans has been in charge of kitchen production since the well-established Hyatt House first opened three years ago. Besides gaining culinary experience in some of the most famed restaurants in the world, Hans has prepared feasts for the royalty of Europe.

Having just returned from a two months visit in the old country, where he acquired many new recipes, Hans is now presenting new dishes on the selective Hyatt House menu. Those who have been abroad will immediately recognize these palatable treats. Delicious sauces is another of his specialties.

Dinner-dancing to the tuneful music of Bob Wellman and his Orchestra in the beautiful Scheherazade Room; early or late cocktails at the pianobar or in a plush leather chair in the cocktail lounge.

To Each His Own

Frank Martielli, Jr. designed and built the new Chalet Steak Pit at 635 Old County road, Belmont, with his own hands and didn't dent a fingernail with the hammer. But now he's licked. He also designed and constructed a tumbling Alpine waterfall and stream to flow in front of the Chalet building. It's beautiful, but it won't hold water. Frank can't seem to find the leaks.

"I'm going back to broiling steaks," was his comment.

Castillo's Mexican Kitchen in exciting Hillsdale's Farmers Market serves delicious home made beef enchiladas and beef tamales. Top off your meal with a glass of imported Carta Blanca Mexican beer.

If there is a dining room fireplace in the Peninsula or on the coast that is larger than the one in the Princeton Inn, tell me about it. When Milt Toniai, the inn keeper, cleans it, he can stand his full size inside it.

Haven't had a chance to see pizza "king" Romano between Easter and the opening of baseball season, but understand he's been in hammer and nail action trying to complete the remodeling of his Pacifica restaurant.

Maurice Anger, now on his third year at the Hilton Inn, has proved a big pianobar hit. Saturday between 9 p.m. and 1 a.m. is Maurice Anger trio dance time.

Lew Lehr, who has operated the highly successful Lew Lehr's in the Marina for the past five years, will celebrate his fifth anniversary next Wednesday. Lew and his charming wife, Edith, are to be congratulated for the way they have run their famed steak house.

Banquet facilities at the Red Lion Inn in Hillsdale have proven an immediate success. Gene Cox, general manager, reported a capacity attendance last week. Fine food and service in elegant surroundings is the formula.

Rudy Vallee, currently appearing in a Broadway musical, penned a letter to his long-time friend George Mardikian, Omar Khayyam's restaurateur. "There's only one Omar and George Mardikian is his name, a master in the gentle art of satisfying the gastronomic urge."

Dancers Reggie Dahl and Stormy Lee will be joined by a third dancing star in the new summer musical revue producer Lestra LaMonte is preparing for presentation at Finocchio's late in June. The new act hails from Paris, according to LaMonte, and his name will be announced soon.

With the comfortable Brentwood lodge fireplace cocktail lounge for a cozy backdrop, and Travis Nesbit at the organ and piano playing "You're Nobody Till Somebody Loves You," there is romance in the air.

Tennessee Ernie Ford and his charming Mrs. are steady luncheon and dinner patrons at Bodee Connolly's Pioneer hotel in Woodside. As a matter of fact, Bodee also dines at the Ford's Woodside ranch whenever she can break away from restaurant duties.

Frank Dennison, manager of the Mountain View Caravan Inn, phoned to suggest that I mention the luscious coconut pie at the Caravan Inn, as long as I always suggest where to enjoy good home made pie. Come to think of it, a Peninsula restaurant pie contest would be a mighty "sweet dish."

If Mothers' Day is anything like last weekend's Easter business at the New Tivoli, suggest you make reservations now. Nick Finocchio had to open his four banquet rooms in order to accommodate the large holiday crowds.

Bright Lights is not a booking agency, but an idea came to mind during dinner at Nick's, the other p.m., that just might be a winner. Why not add Clare Irby to the dining room staff and, during the Friday and Saturday night entertainment hours, have Clare and Mary Ann Hay put on a "Topsy and Eva" routine. With both of them calling for "Bill Bailey" to come home, Bill wouldn't have a chance. Think it over, Nick.

Don't forget the Wednesday, 12 noon to 1 p.m., fashion shows at the International Inn restaurant. This is a new addition to the scene—and a most attractive one.

Luz Garcia has many memories when she visits the Twenty-Third Avenue sector in Oats land. It was here at the California Cotton Mills that Miss Garcia found her first job in the United States—making thread for sacks. However, that was many "bags" ago. Today, Miss Garcia is the owner of the famed Sinaloa Mexican cantina in San Francisco and many acres of California land.

Enrichment Program Is Underway

Science Study in Top Gear

INSTRUCTION—R. J. Hochede, biology teacher, shows Connie Wiener how equipment for taking blood pressure is used. Biology class emphasizes the relation of man to other organisms. (Post-Times Photo)

A SCIENCE enrichment program, designed to give students additional instruction in key areas after school hours, is under way under the sponsorship of the Christopher Columbus P.T.A.

Eighty fifth and sixth grade students are studying such areas as the structure of the atom, how aircraft flies, mathematical concepts and bacteriology.

Instructors are parents and others in the community who heard of the program and offered to share with pupils their knowledge gained through their professions or hobbies.

The program was organized with the assistance of Robert Abbey, school principal, and his staff.

All classes except nursing arts meet every second week in the evening at the school or at the homes of the instructors. Nursing arts students meet each Monday after school.

Students were chosen on the basis of a standard science achievement test given to all fifth and sixth grade students interested in the program.

Pupils were assigned insofar as possible to the class they preferred. Each class has from four to 10 pupils each.

SUBJECTS and instructors are: astronomy, George Simon; biology, R. J. Hochede; chemistry, George Robinson; mathematics, Saby Eliachar; mechanical drawing, Jack Van Zandt; nursing arts, Kay Shannon and Mrs. Francisco Pelino; photography, Jack Marcus; physical science, Dr. D. L. Love; ship design, E. F. Kaufman and theory of flight, Paul Lucey.

Here is a description of some of the instruction being given:

In physical science, Dr. Love began his class by giving students an understanding of what atoms and molecules are—explaining that the knowledge of atoms has advanced science more than any other single concept.

Students learn how the chemist, physicist, and nuclear expert work with atoms and molecules to work out concepts involved in nuclear reactors, rocket propulsion, plastics, electricity, heat, heredity, photography, weather and other fields.

IN PHOTOGRAPHY, Marcus teaches the history and origin of this field, basic fundamentals about taking good pictures, types of cameras and how they operate, the development of film and printing and enlarging pictures.

In astronomy, Simon illustrates the size of the universe by having class members pace off, across the school ground, relative distances between the planets and the sun.

After studying space arrangement in the solar system, students learn concepts about the stars nearest to the earth, what stars are like and how they came into existence.

In biology, Hochede is emphasizing a consideration of bacteria, protozoa and viruses and the spread of infectious disease.

GORDON PECK uses a bunsen burner to heat a solution of copper sulphate in a test tube. A rusty nail in the tube, when heated, drives free copper to the surface. Experiments such as this take place in chemistry instruction. (Post-Times photo)

Santa Clara Is Dubious On Transit

If there is to be a West Bay rapid transit district, it may consist only of San Mateo county.

Santa Clara county representatives declined last week to join with San Mateo county in supporting legislation to form the district. John Beckett, chairman of the Santa Clara county transit study committee, said his group needs more time to study the proposal before committing itself. "We should work together," Beckett said, "and we are anxious to co-operate. But we are not prepared."

But Beckett sounded a pessimistic note about the chances of Santa Clara county ever coming in on the deal.

"There is great skepticism in Santa Clara county," he warned. "Regarding the need for rapid transit and whether rapid transit can really do a job for our county. People are doubtful that rapid transit can solve our traffic congestion. There will have to be a real selling job done."

The San Mateo county committee voted unanimously to endorse the legislation, which its author, State Senator Richard J. Wolfig, said should come up for committee hearing this week.

Seven members of the Santa Clara county committee met with the San Mateo county committee in San Mateo county in Redwood City. The San Mateo committee, which was formed after the county withdrew from the Bay Area Rapid Transit District, is anxious to persuade Santa Clara county to take part in a joint program. The idea of the local group is to upgrade the existing Southern Pacific commuter service in the two counties and tie it in with the BARTD system. County Manager E. R. Stallings reported that BARTD and SP officials have been co-operating in the study thus far. Senator Dolwig outlined the provisions of this bill, Senate Bill 748, at the joint meeting. It provides for a three-county West Bay transit district, to include San Francisco, but it is not mandatory that any of the counties join. Thus San Mateo county could form the district without the other two counties. The bill provides for annexation of the other counties later.
